

The FCC should consider the detrimental effects that PLC has on Ham Radio. The Amateur Radio Service is an important resource and a technology that has proven to make this service unusable should not be considered.